New Website for B.Davis Scholarship

The B.Davis scholarship has moved to a new website. The name of our former website, Scholarship Quest Helper, apparently was infringing on a registered trademark. We have complied with the wishes of the other party and have changed our name and our website. Our new website is Student Award Search Aid and can be found at <http://www.studentawardsearch.com/scholarships.htm> You will find the same good information on helping students through the task of finding and applying for scholarships. We apologize for any inconvenience this change may have caused. Please be assured that all of the scholarship applications that have already been received are still valid and will be considered in the final selection. Deadline is May 28th.
